340 PLAN FOR

statement to the court
defendants would be con-
by the Nazis' own records.
The four-power international court knocked the main de-drop from under the Nazi claims when it denied their that they could not be tried war guilt under existing international law.

The pleas of innocence were en-in a hectic 10 minutes with phases varying from the dog-park of "No" from Rudolf H. Hitler's one-time deputy,
a sonate reply of "Not guilty
the eyes of God" from Baldu-n Schirach, Hitler youth chief.
Goering Gets Huffy
The dramatic high point of the opening session was reached on Lord Justice Geoffrey Law-ce, presiding, called the defendants forward one by one, telling them to plead merely innocent or guilty and to refrain in speeches which they would be asked to make later.

Despite the warning, Hermann Goering, stripped of his medals and medals as a German reichsmarshal, lumbered to the microphone with a prepared speech and emptied to read it.
Presiding Lord Justice Geoffrey waving halted him. With an angry grimace, Goering intoned:
"I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

He waddled back to his seat.
When all the defendants had pledged innocence, Lord Lawrence called to Ernest Kaltenbrunner, a security chief who was unable to appear because of a cranial injury, would be tried in sentence.

Justice Jackson, in his statement to the court, asserted that he had subjected their European neighbors to every outrage of torture, every spoliation and degradation that insolence, cruelty and greed could inflict.

They have brought the German race to the lowest pitch of debasement, from which they can never recover. They have incited violence in every continent, made the German people victims of the blundery and intimidations of conspirators.

of aggressions and

ADMIRAL SAYS
HURT FEELINGS
CAUSED OUSTERRichardson Tells Pearl Harbor
Probers He Had Offended
Roosevelt.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—Admiral J. O. Richardson today quoted the late Secretary of Navy Knox as telling him he was relieved as commander of the fleet in 1941 because he had "hurt the feelings" of President Roosevelt.
Richardson told the senate-house committee inquiring into the Pearl Harbor disaster that Knox told him in Washington March 24, 1941 after Richardson was succeeded by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel.

"The last time you were here,
your hurt the President's feelings," Senator Ferguson (D-Mich.)
asked Richardson, who said he had argued previously with the President against keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, if he knew how he might have hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings.

"It would hurt my feelings if a senior subordinate under me disagreed with me and I couldn't make him change his mind," the admiral replied.

Navy Assumption
Admiral Richardson earlier testified the Navy assumed on October 10, 1940 that United States was ready to go to war if the Japanese retaliated against a proposed plan to stop Japanese shipping.

The inquiry brought out these other developments:
1—Rep. John W. Murray (D-Pa.) said Adm. William D. Leahy had told him he had no recollection that President Roosevelt ever expressed doubt that the United States would fight Japan. If the Japanese attacked the Philippines
Richardson had testified Mr.
Roosevelt made such a remark at an Oct. 6, 1940 White House luncheon which Leahy, the President's wartime chief of staff, attended. Leahy has been called as a witness.

2—Committee Chairman Barkley (D-N.Y.) disclosed that former Secretary of State Hull, who has been summoned as a witness, may not be heard until after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Richardson told the investigators today discussion of the plan to halt Japanese shipping—never carried out—had prompted him to send a message to Admiral Thomas C. Hart, then Asiatic fleet commander, containing 10 "assumptions."

Relates Plan
He had testified yesterday the late Secretary of Navy Frank Knox told him and other officers at a conference Oct. 9, 1940 that President Roosevelt had suggested establishing a line of ships to halt Japanese shipping to the western hemisphere in the event Japan moved against the British as a result of the reopening of the Burma road set for Oct. 17.

Although Richardson protested against the blockade, he said today he had consulted with war plans division officers here who drew up the message for Hart.

The naval officers assumed, the message showed, the United States is prepared to accept war
if the blockade brought counter-action by Japan.

Among the other assumptions was that the United States would support British forces in Australia and Singapore and Dutch forces in the East Indies.

Quoted Roosevelt
In his report of the Oct. 9, 1940
White House conversation Richardson testified earlier he asked Mr. Roosevelt if this country was going to enter the war. He paraphrased the President's reply as follows:
"He replied that if the Japanese attacked Thailand, or the Kra peninsula or the Dutch East Indies
we would not enter the war, but if they then attacked the Philippines he doubted whether we would enter the war, but that they could not always avoid making mistakes and that as the war
continued and the area of operations expanded sooner or later they would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Senator Brewster of Maine, the other Republican senate member of the committee, were prevented by a senate recess from replying to a contention by Senator Tunnell (D-Conn.) that they are "gentlemen in borrowed kimono" acting as "apologists for Japan."

Charges Defamation
Tunnell in a senate speech late yesterday also asserted the two Republican members from that chamber were trying to "smirch
the memory" of Mr. Roosevelt.

Richardson told the committee
President Roosevelt suggested in October, 1940, the establishment of ship patrol lines from Hawaii to

TRUMAN SHIFTS
HIGH COMMANDEisenhower and Nimitz Succeed Retiring Marshall and King in Top Posts.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—The Army and Navy underwent a major shift in top commands today in the midst of an inter-service scrap over proposals to merge them.

President Truman announced the biggest shake-up in the defense departments since before the war, with these four changes:
1—General of the Army George
C. Marshall, 64-year-old, Army chief of staff, retires, to be succeeded by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 55.

2—Fleet Admiral Ernest J.
King, who will be 67 Friday, retires as chief of naval operations, and Fleet Admiral Chester W.
Nimitz, 60, takes his place.

3—Gen. Joseph W. McNarney, recently acting Allied supreme commander in the Mediterranean theater, succeeds Eisenhower as commanding general of the American forces in the European theater, commander-in-chief of the U. S. occupation forces in Germany, and U. S. representative on the Allied control council of Germany.

4—Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, a lifetime commander of the 5th fleet described by associates as a "cold-blooded fighting fish," becomes commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet in place of Nimitz. He is 59.

20 Others May Go
The shifts were announced at a late afternoon news conference yesterday. Mr. Truman said Gen.
Brennon Somervell, commander of the Army service forces, and General of the Army Henry H.
Arnold, chief of the Army Air Force, had asked to be relieved,
too, but he had not consented.

Asked about the difference in views on the Army-Navy merger
—with Eisenhower favoring it and Nimitz opposing—Mr. Truman said he would state his own attitude in a message to congress and after that all would be in the same boat. He did not amplify.

He said his primary duty of directing mobilization, training and employment of the wartime Army has been completed and that decisions bearing on "an interim and postwar Army" should be made by congress.

Pending senate action on Eisenhower's nomination, the President named the Kansas acting chief of staff.

Immediate reaction on Capitol Hill to the command shifts were uniformly favorable.

THOUSANDS IN 20 STATES HIT
BY STOPPAGEFirst Big Peacetime Walkout Ordered To Force 30 Per Cent Wage Boost.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Nov. 21—The CIO's United Auto Workers
union began its long-threatened strike against General Motors Corp. today in support of its demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

Timed for 11 a. m. (Eastern War Time), the strike apparently began prematurely in at least one plant—Buick Motors in Flint, Mich.—and at the stated hour UAW-CIO headquarters said the strike was
"in effect."

That announcement came from Vice President Walter
P. Reuther, who had headed UAW-CIO representatives in the weeks-long negotiations with General Motors over the wage demand.

As GM workers in Michigan joined in the strike by the thousands, Gov. Harry F. Kelly offered local law enforcement officers state help to keep order if necessary.

Kelly said precautions were necessary in view of the strike's
"magnitude."
Many GM plants in the vast system across the nation — from California to New York and into the middle west — were reported closed before noon (EST). The walkout hour was 11 a. m.

The strike, pitting the nation's largest labor union against America's largest operating corporation, affected by company estimate about 100,000 workers. The UAW-CIO has used a figure of 125,000 as the number to be involved.

Flame Difficulties
Since the end of the war, GM's employment has been heavily reduced, and the discrepancy in union and company figures lay apparently in the union's reference to its membership totals as the basis for estimating the number affected. GM operates some 100 plants in 20 states.

Workers streamed out of other GM plants at the 11 a. m. deadline. At AC spark plug in Flint a picket line assembled. At the Cadillac plant in Detroit workers also marched out onto the streets.

A UAW-CIO sound truck had been playing music before the Cadillac plant for a half hour before the walkout. As the strike began, a unionist in the truck announced "you are now on strike."

Union headquarters said the office building of General Motors would not be affected by the strike. A union official said many other firms occupied offices in the building and the union wished to avoid inconvenience for them.

The first reported walkout at an individual plant was at Flint, Mich., where employees left work at the Buick Motors plant. Nearly all had left the plant by 10:40 a. m.

Buick Force Down
Buick's force had been reduced temporarily from its original estimate of 9,000 by a shortage of hassis frames which had stopped
the production of Buick cars several days ago.

In meetings at Flint last night,
union members were warned to refrain from violence, but to see that non-union formen were not permitted to enter the Flint plants.

Local 1075 of the AFL's Building Trades council notified the Flint UAW-CIO that approximately 1,000 AFL workers aiding in the General Motors reconversion program would walkout in sympathy with the auto workers.

Officials of the railway brotherhood told the strikers a single train failed to load trucks at the GM plant would be recognized as a picket line and that railway traffic into the factories would cease.

Take Over Restaurant
Chevrolet Local 659 took over a restaurant near the Flint plant and prepared to serve coffee, doughnuts and sandwiches to pickets.

Buick Local 399 voted to take 32 per cent membership out of its general fund to aid the strike cause, and Fished Body Local 581 voted a $2 strike assessment against each member.

UAW-CIO locals of the AC
Sparkplug division and the Chevrolet division voted against any specific assessment for the strike.

The strike marked the beginning of the first mass strike in the history of Oldsmobile, the oldest motor car manufacturing concern in the nation. No strikes occurred in the Olds plants during the war and the only previous work stoppage except during the "Lansing labor holiday" was a

GI's Anxious for "Civvies"

Returning Veterans Rush Marion Clothing Stores for New Outfits.

By MARY HERRING

GI's returning to homes in Marion county are faring a lot better when they start to stock up on wardrobe items than the men who live in big cities.

Of course the Navy or Army lad who stored his pre-war models away in moth-balls is still in a better position as far as clothing items are concerned—that is if he can still wear the old ones.

A check here today of a number of clothing stores brought one answer from all managers. There are no worsteds, sharkskins or other types of material once popular with the men. Suits now are tailored of a rougher weave and prove a bit disappointing to men who preferred smoother textured-cloth.

Another thing all managers agreed upon is that the men are not at all hard to please and they will buy whatever is available even though it isn't exactly what they originally had in mind. Most of the veterans are quite anxious to get into "civvies" and the time element required for fittings is the most annoying factor.

One in A Hurry.

One store owner told of a young man about a week ago who came to the store direct from the train, picked out a suit, bought it, sat down and waited till the alterations were finished then walked out with his uniform tucked under his arm.

The demands of the returning servicemen have depleted most of the stocks and some stores today said they had less than half their regular number of suits. Since replacements are so slow in coming in, the situation is becoming more critical. Some of the clothing departments in larger cities have been forced to close entirely. Sales here average from 70 to 100 suits a week in some of the stores and orders for returning shipments to replenish the stock usually average only 10 suits per week.

One clothier said that they were well supplied with suits but they had no shorts, no pajamas and not a single white shirt in the store. Still another store owner said that their habit of over-buying was paying dividends for once and their stock was still plentiful.

Want Help in Selection

The majority of buyers returning from service rely on the clerk's opinion or that of a wife or other relatives. Most of the men state that they have become so accustomed to the uniform that they are a little slow about recognizing something that is in style now.

Many of the young men ask to have their coats nipped in at the waist so it will feel more like the tighter-fitting uniform. As a rule the clerk tries to dissuade the customer explaining that they will soon be accustomed to the feel of the loose coat.

The taste in ties runs strongly on the loud side. Hats are an item that some can take, others refuse to wear them. Some of the buyers complain of the strange apparition that faces them from the mirror and state that a regular hat is really something to get accustomed to after the small overseas caps and round Navy hats.

One more point that all store personnel agreed upon was the fact that the first thing to find out is whether the prospective buyer was in the Army or the Navy. When that point is settled they are safe to offer a color the opposite from that of the uniform.

USED FAT GOLDMINE!

It is a rare item that does not have one or two sticky eaters, whose plates usually bulge with picked over food. Table scraps are potential fat salvage wealth to housewives, and having a sticky eater to boot, makes for double wealth.

All housewives are urged by the Department of Agriculture to try out table scraps. Every drop of used fat they save this way helps fill their fat salvage cans, and every pound of kitchen grease turned in now brings four ration points.

Watch those table scraps. They may well be the most fertile source today of desperately needed used fat.

Business girls enjoy having lunch here, because we offer a splendid variety of nutritious foods—and serve them to your satisfaction.

Link Between Soil Fertility and Health Sought by Science

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 — Scientists are seeking to establish a positive relationship between soil fertility and human health.

There is some circumstantial evidence of such a link, but years of research may be required before a definite decision can be reached.

Karl B. Mickey attempts to trace the connection in a forthcoming book, "Health from the Ground Up." He offers — "by way of illustration rather than proof" — a number of examples.

He cites a report by Col. Leonard G. Rowntree, medical chief of selective service, that examiners had found the highest U. S. health level in Colorado, where seven of every ten registrants were acceptable for military service.

"The poorest health level was found in one of the southern states, where only three of every ten men examined were acceptable," the book adds. "Now, the soils of some of the southern states are notoriously deficient in calcium and phosphorus, while the area comprising Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and the western part of Texas and Oklahoma is notably rich in these minerals."

"Mickey writes that an examination of 810 school children in Hereford, Tex., showed that only 50 per cent had tooth decay, compared with 85 to 100 per cent among school children in the country at large. Then:

"Analysis of wheat, milk, vegetables and meat produced in the vicinity showed an unusual concentration of phosphorus," he reports. "In the case of wheat the concentration of phosphorus was six times normal. The calcium concentration also was high."

The refers, too, to findings of Dr. Weston A. Price in the Loel-schental valley in northern Switzerland. The community had no doctor or dentist and, because of high mountains, no outside food. The fare — largely whole rye bread, butter, summer-made cheese and some meat and greens — as high in calcium, phosphorus and fat-soluble vitamins. The residents were credited with the "finest physiques in Europe."

Mickey, who also wrote "Man and the Soil," has written other studies related to food and agriculture. He is a member of the public relations staff of the International Harvester Co., which will publish his book. In gathering material, the author consulted many experts on soil fertility and nutrition.

Mickey figures we may wait five or ten years or even a generation for conclusive answers to all the questions involved, but he opines:

"The future health of our people depends as much upon the farmers as upon the doctors."

PRESS IS PRAISED FOR GUARDING SECRETS

By International News Service

WRIGHT FIELD—The nation's press received a pat on the back today from Col. G. R. Johnston, public relations officer of the Air Technical Service Command during the critical period of aircraft production which brought forth the Boeing Superfortress and more than 600,000 other planes and items of equipment.

In guarding vital secrets surrounding the development of American airpower during the last two years of the war, newspapermen and magazine writers performed a distinct service to the nation, Col. Johnston said.

Under orders transferring him to an assignment in Europe, Col. Johnston also lauded the aviation industry and labor for "outstanding achievements" in the production of AAF material.

A former Michigan newspaperman and magazine writer, Col. Johnston was ordered to Wright Field by the war department in November, 1943, at a time when the AAF's development and production program was the object of national press censure. Wright Field, then headquarters of the AAF Material Command, was promptly thrown open to newspapermen and nationally known writers under a policy of trusting the press not to reveal secrets of value to the enemy.

"So well were these secrets kept," Col. Johnston said, "that even some of our own personnel did not know of the existence of certain weapons until the war's end. The cooperation of the nation's press was a contributing factor to the ultimate victory."

Aga Khan To Donate Weight in Diamonds

By International News Service

LONDON — In commemoration of his 60th anniversary as spiritual head of Islam, the Aga Khan will be weighed against diamonds in Bombay on March 20, 1946, it was learned here today.

The decision to weigh against diamonds instead of the customary gold was made some time ago by the Khan's followers and the Aga Khan himself has fixed next March as the most auspicious date.

Leader of all the Islamic Moslems, the Aga Khan who is 60, has many religious followers in East Africa, Central Asia and India.

The announcement that after weighing the diamonds presented to the Aga Khan will be given by him to charity carries the real import.

According to an expert jeweler in London, diamonds are worth thousands of dollars more in average weight than gold. The same weight in diamonds would work out to nearly 100,000. Computation at current market values reveals that 100 carat diamonds would be worth the richest men in the world roughly $24,000.

Language Chasm Stalks Peacemakers

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN — Variations in the English and Russian texts of the Potsdam agreement—caused by different interpretations of language—have caused considerable difficulties and lost time for officials charged with carrying out terms of the pact.

Because of these variations, President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee did not interpret the agreement in exactly the same light as did Marshal Stalin, when the Big Three signed the document last August.

A third shade of meaning was given the agreement when it was translated into German and published in newspapers here.

And still a fourth interpretation was introduced by its translation into French. France was not represented at the Potsdam conference, but shares the responsibility for carrying out terms of the agreement.

Result Is Misunderstandings

Consequently, as American members of the Allied Control Council point out, misunderstandings frequently occur when that body considers matters of policy.

An American officer who speaks Russian fluently said:

"When things come to a standstill, it is often wrongly assumed that the Russians are trying to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery."

"The real cause for breakdowns is usually because the Russians have one conception, based on their authorized text, while we have another, based on our authorized English text."

For instance, the word "policy," he explained, connotes to the Americans and British a definite DOUBLE TALK—The Big Three shown standing at Potsdam are in a more puzzled mood now. Different language interpretations of their pact are snarling up administration.

guiding principle, to the Russians, the word "politiki" means general theory of action.

The English text says that "15 per cent of such usable and complete industrial capital equipment in the first place from the metallurgical, chemical and machine-manufacturing industries, as is unnecessary for the German peace economy" shall be awarded Russia as reparations from the western occupation zones.

To the Americans and English, this means that if and when the essential needs of the Germans have been satisfied, the Russians will get their reparations from the metallurgical, chemical and machine-manufacturing industries, before any other industries are touched.

In the Russian text, "in the first place" means that Russian reparations will receive priority over essential German needs.

When a German translation of the agreement was published,

SLUM CLEARING BILL PROPOSED FOR OHIO

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21 — The Ohio plan for program commission today considered a proposal for legislation to enable cities to eliminate slum areas and adopt for slum areas housing projects under state supervision.

Arthur Horvitz, member of the Cleveland planning commission, appeared yesterday for state authorization for counties to adopt zoning regulations protecting both urban and rural areas at a forum held by the commission, headed by State Senator Roscoe R. Walcott of Columbus.

Horvitz declared that cities had no legal power to pursue slum clearance programs under present state legislation.

Earle W. Brainerd, member of the Metropolitan Cleveland development council, told the commission some 2,000 returning servicemen had applied for the 300 houses available for rent in Cleveland.

(Ohio's urban development commission in Columbus yesterday decided to start gathering immediately data on available housing facilities with a view toward obtaining legislation to assist in construction of needed housing. The commission called on the veterans' program commission to aid on the survey.)

TO HONOR RODGER YOUNG

By The Associated Press

FREMONT, O., Nov. 21 — The Edgar Thurston post of the American Legion is planning a 60-piece harmonica band honoring Pvt. Rodger Young, Fremont soldier awarded the congressional medal of honor posthumously, and Pfc. Frank Loesser, composer of the ballad of Rodger Young, who both were harmonica enthusiasts.

AT LEGION MEETING — Commander of the French forces in occupied Germany, Lt. Gen. Pierre Koenig (above), who came to the U. S. to attend the 25th annual American Legion convention in Chicago, took issue with the recent statement of Byron Price that a certain amount of German industry must be allowed to function to save the German people from starvation. The famous French general said Price's statement was "completely wrong."

CLASS ENTERTAINED — The Willing Workers class of Green Camp Reformed church was entertained at the home of its teacher, Mrs. Roy Swisher west of Green Camp Thursday night.

Devotions were conducted by Billy Ruth. A piano solo was played by Mary Ruth and concertists and entertainment were in charge of Patty Graham and Robert Swisher. Barbara Swisher was a guest.

Let Us Remember That We Have Much To Be Thankful For—

LET US BE THANKFUL that we attained a decisive Victory—that freedom and decency still live—that America was untouched by destruction—that we had a united will to carry on—that we had leaders of great vision—that we had men and women of courage!

Let us never forget, however, that we barely attained the victory! Let us never forget that Germany was a few months behind us in developing the atomic bomb. Let us never forget that on innumerable occasions in both wars, our battles were won with very slender margins.

Your personal thankfulness for the Victory will be measured by your support of the

First Loves Not Always Best, J. S. 'Enoch Arden' Cases Show

By BILL GLOVER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

YORK, Nov. 20 — The guy who said first loves should see what's been going to America's Enoch of World War II and the way left behind them.

en cases in which soldiers were reported to then came home to find their first loves had remarried, four of the five returned housekeepers, four other marital mixups, and two husbands made decisions. Two cases of unraveled in court of

Mrs. Ann Birdwell, Kansas City, who was married to her husband's uncle, Jack Marshall, just 12 days before Sgt. Gene Birdwell was released from a Japanese prison camp. He had been shot down in March 1944 over Bankapan.

Quickly, the second marriage was annulled, and Ann rushed to meet the returned sergeant. Said Birdwell: "I'm not sure at any one."

The same pattern was followed in the case of Lois Barbara Patton, Holmes, Tacoma, Wash., 1931, who married Sgt. Anton L. Holmes in May, 1941, one year after being notified that Navy SK 2c William A. Patton, her husband of seven years, had been killed in the Philippines. He turned up later in a prison camp. The Pattons now are living happily in Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Helen Goad, Portsmouth,

O. switched the inter-service procedure by giving up Navy Ensign Robert A. MacDowell when Army Lt. Harold K. Goad turned up in a Calcutta hospital last May. His plane had been reported shot down in flames over Rangoon in October 1943. To him the wired "Darling, am so glad to hear you are alive. Will see you soon. I love you with all my heart." If MacDowell she said "Somebody's got to be hurt in a thing like this. For that I am sorry."

Adopted Daughter

In a case at Spokane, Wash., in which the names were not revealed, a clergyman disclosed that a young wife returned to her first husband who adopted the daughter of the second marriage. An interesting twist to the case was the disclosure that the husband had been boyhood chums in Florida. Like most of the other mis-

ing husbands, the Spokane man had been a Japanese prisoner. Less happy was the still-unsettled case of Mrs. Claire Earlywine Barnett, San Francisco, who was remarried twice after Chief Gunner's Mate Virgil Earlywine was reported lost aboard a submarine in the Java sea in 1942. She had the first remarriage to John P. Ryder, Cleveland, annulled in 1944 when she heard that Earlywine was a survivor.

When that report was confirmed, she wed another Navy man, CTV Robert E. Burnett, a shipmate who reportedly had introduced her to Earlywine years before. When the missing submarine sailor turned up in San Francisco, the three had a long fruitless talk. Then the girl took an overdose of sleeping tablets. "I didn't want to give either one of them up," she said later, according to Police Officer Harold J. Bell.

LARUE SERVICES TONIGHT

LARUE—Tonight at 8 o'clock a special Thanksgiving service will be held at the LaRue Baptist church with the New Bloomington, Meeker and LaRue Methodist churches and the host church participating. Rev. Garrison Roebuck, minister of The First United Brethren church in Marion, will be the speaker and a community choir will furnish special music.

Hold for Bigamy

Similarly, court action is pending in another Texas case which has Enoch Arden aspects. The woman, a 21-year-old mother, has been held on charges of bigamy.

The original Enoch Arden of Lord Tennyson's poem had a solution to his difficulties different from all of the modern parallels. When he returned after being at sea for years and found his wife remarried, he quietly went off without ever letting her know he had returned from the dead.

JOBS BILL SPONSORS LIKE HOUSE VERSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—Home-front questions swung into the forefront of congress today. They included:

Full Employment—How far shall the government go in fighting depression?

Sponsors of the so-called "Full Employment Bill" in the house expressed delight because a subcommittee of the house expenditures committee yesterday approved a "compromise" version of the measure.

Though this version hasn't been made public, all signs indicate it falls far short of the jobs-for-all guarantee wanted by Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.) and other supporters of the bill.

But Patman told a reporter he is not too concerned about that.

because the main thing is for the expenditures committee not to "keep the measure bottled up any longer."

He said he and other sponsors hope to offer amendments to "rewrite it into good, workable legislation."

Labor Disputes—Shall the house go ahead and debate a bill that would punish unions if they violate no-strike contracts, or shall the house wait until the national labor-management conference is over?

The house rules committee met today to decide that issue.

Education—Shall the federal government spend $300,000,000 a year to strengthen public schools, especially schools in states that don't collect much tax money?

On this disputed question, the house education committee has decided to go ahead and work on a bill now, instead of waiting for President Truman to make a long-awaited statement on federal aid to education.

U. S. Employment Service—On what date shall it be returned to the control of state governments?

Yesterday, by 35-31, the senate voted down a proposal to postpone the date until next June 30. The senate decided the employment offices should leave federal control in four months after the bill becomes law, or around March 1.

The house has voted in favor of one month, or around Jan. 1. Now a senate-house committee must straighten out the difference.

WAR TRIAL

tion of occupation of Atlantic islands with a view to prosecution of the war against America at a later date.

In March 1941, Jackson said, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, issued a secret directive that "the fuhrer has ordered investigation of Japan's active participation in the war."

Jackson expressed the hope the tribunal would visit the nearby Dachau concentration camp, where 40 other Nazis presently are on trial before a United States military court for war crimes.

He read an order to the German armed forces from Hitler telling the army to have suspects in occupied countries "disappear without a trace" as a punitive measure against unfriendly acts.

Jackson read a Hitlerian order that American and British fliers parachuting into Nazi territory were to be treated as criminals instead of prisoners of war. German soldiers last year but was defeated by the Republican incumbent, Don H. Ebright.

LaRue Man Candidate for State Treasurer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21—Harry V. Armstrong of LaRue, for eight years deputy county treasurer of Lucas county and a well-known tax consultant, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer in the May, 1946, primaries. Armstrong was the Democratic nominee last year but was defeated by the Republican incumbent, Don H. Ebright.

IN CHINA TO AID JAPS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—Secretary of State Byrnes said today American Marines are in strict promise made to the Japanese government last August to help in the surrender and repatriation of Japanese soldiers there. This was the first disclosure of a pledge to the Japanese to use American forces in China to help get Japanese troops home.

INDICTED IN SLAYING

ELVIRA, O., Nov. 21—The Lorain county grand jury today indicted Gordon E. Wellman, 23, Lorain steel worker, on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying Oct. 24 of Mrs. Helen Duffield, 24, of Lorain.

PUBLISHER RESIGNS

WILMINGTON, O., Nov. 21—W. J. Galvin has resigned from the Ohio state board of agriculture after serving 11 years as a member. Galvin, newspaper publisher and owner of Fairmeade farms, where trotting horses are bred, was in charge of the Ohio state fair racing program.

REDS WIN FIVE FRENCH POSTS

Gen. de Gaulle Forms New Cabinet, Yielding to Powerful Communist Vote.

PARIS, Nov. 21—Gen. de Gaulle's cabinet said today that the President had formed a coalition government giving the Communists five portfolios, including a newly-created ministry of armaments.

Gaston Palewski, who read off the list, said de Gaulle would prevent it to the constituent assembly Friday. This was expected to resolve the crisis which arose when the Communists demanded one of three major cabinet posts—interior, war or foreign affairs.

The new government includes four ministers of state without portfolios. These are Socialist Vincent Auriol, M.R.P. Francisque Gay, Rightist Louis Jacquinot and Communist Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the party.

ADD REDS WIN 2

Four other Communists were named.

de Gaulle retained the presidency and with it the function of chief of the French armies.

The Socialists and the Popular Republican parties, like the Communists each received five cabinet posts.

World Shrink

But the war has done more than that. It has reduced the world to the size of a crab-apple in so far as international relations are concerned. Henceforth we must operate as one community, and this means law and order must be maintained as a community interest. Hence the trials of those charged with war crimes.

But the war has done more than that. It has reduced the world to the size of a crab-apple in so far as international relations are concerned. Henceforth we must operate as one community, and this means law and order must be maintained as a community interest. Hence the trials of those charged with war crimes.

Trial Bring On World's Biggest House-Cleaning

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The other day there died in Tennessee a man named Luke Lea. One of the high points of his very active life (he was soldier, publisher, senator) was an attempt to kidnap the Kaiser.

Colonel Lea and a handful of picked followers executed the capture of the German emperor in Holland shortly after the end of World War I because all the Allied bluster about trying war criminals, and the shouts of "Hang the Kaiser," proved to have been the thumping of an empty tub. Lea and his colleagues decided to take the matter in their own hands.

The colonel was living ahead of his time today—a generation later—the Nuremberg trials are under way, and a score of Nazi leaders are facing judgment for the part they played in Hitler's assault on humanity. The other day Josef Kramer, "Beast of Belsen," and twenty-nine others were convicted by the British at Lüneburg for the horrors of the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps. And Japan's war-lords are being brought to book.

These trials, as I see it, mark a world movement in the right direction. It's difficult for you and me, as we think of loved ones lost in this cruel war, to see good coming out of such a conflict. But it is indeed a hopeful sign that the world should rise up and declare itself against the crime of war.

Civilization Complains

Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief prosecutor for the United States at Nuremberg, declared in his opening address before the tribunal:

"The real complaining party at your bar is civilization."

That means that at long last world consciousness has been aroused and solidified against the barbarism of war. It means the time has arrived when right-minded folks of all countries can combine against a common menace. It's one of the signs that we are approaching real world unity.

A generation ago the world recognized that Germany's aggression was wicked and ought to be punished. But international politics kept nations from carrying out their duty.

However, this second World War has brought the forces of good and of evil out into open conflict in which there can be no quarter. We are set for the greatest house-cleaning our globe ever has seen.

STATE BOARD OKAYS NEW AIRPORT SITE

Notice on Scioto Plant Area

Received by Mayor.

The Ohio Aeronautics Board has approved the proposed site of the new Marion airport. Mayor Harry L. Dowler announced today.

The airport was given yesterday in a communication addressed to Mayor Dowler by George A. Stone, chairman of the board. Previously the Civil Aeronautics Commission or Federal aviation agency, had approved the 644-acre tract in the Scioto Ordnance Plant area.

Mayor Dowler said approval of the newly-created Ohio aviation board is required by law for all Ohio airports used in commercial aviation. Federal approval of the tract was given after Earl F. Heist, district airport engineer, inspected the tract last May 22.

Next step in the airport negotiations will come Monday night when council considers legislation authorizing Service Safety E. O. Uncapher to submit a bid to the government for the tract which has been appraised at slightly more than $65,000.

Chiang Troops Gain in Manchuria Drive

Chinese Nationalists reportedly gained 25 miles today in their push into rich Manchuria against light Chinese Communist opposition, while the Reds forecast early flareups in central China and a comparative lull settled over bleeding Java.

Chiang's Communists reported 100,000 government troops were massing along a 110-mile front against two Red armies in Honan and Hupeh provinces of central China and predicted "large-scale" battling soon.

"IRE" URGES STRONG U. S.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21—No other country fears a strong America, says Gen. Eisenhower, the newly designated Army chief of staff, and "no decent preparations of our own will be regarded suspiciously by others, because we are trusted. Speaking at the American Legion national commander's dinner, the five-star general urged that the nation maintain strong military forces, emphasized as necessary universal military training and favored unified control of the country's fighting forces.

ASK TRUMAN HELP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—A proposal that President Truman intervene in the labor-management conference to hasten its seemingly slow progress was reported today. Persons concerned over what they consider the failure of delegates to grapple effectively with major problems of labor unrest have suggested that Mr. Truman deliver to the conference a "yard stick" of the work he expects of it.

Asia to cut off Japanese trade with the Americas if the Japs moved against the British because of the opening of the Burma road. The witness said he was "amazed" at the proposal and opposed it because he felt it meant war for which the fleet was not prepared. Richardson expressed the opinion that retention of the fleet in the same month Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, state department advisor, "was even a greater influence over the position of the fleet than I. A. Hornbeck now is ambassador to the Netherlands."

Richardson testified Admiral Leahy advised against sending any additional ships to the fleet, contending any dispatch there would be lost if war came in July, 1940, he said, that the fleet was not prepared.

Secretary Hull told the witness that he should take a very strong position on the retention of the fleet.

EDUCATORS PROPOSE NEW TRAINING PLAN

By The Associated Press
OBERLIN, O., Nov. 21 — Requesting postponement of a decision on the compulsory military training proposal now pending in congress, 34 college and university presidents have sent a substitute plan to the house military affairs committee in Washington.

The substitute, announced yesterday by President Ernest Hatch Wilkins of Oberlin college, asks extension of selective service on a year-to-year basis with a 15-month service limit for draftees and suggests promotion of a voluntary enlistment program.

Wilkins said the group would support compulsory training, however, if its proposed alternative were deemed "adequate."

Yesterday a spokesman for a large group of educators offered the house military committee another four-point substitute for proposed universal military training legislation.

First opposition witness, Dr. George F. Zook of Washington, president of the American Council on Education, told the committee that, as a result of many deliberations, the council recommends an international agreement eliminating compulsory military services from the practices and policies of all nations.

Appointment by the President of a national commission to study every aspect of defense before congress acts on compulsory training. That definite quotas of minimum military needs to assure defense be determined and that every effort be made to meet these needs through voluntary enlistments.

That we concentrate upon the fundamental and vital issue of world organization to preserve peace and security by strengthening the existing United Nations organization."

However, Dr. George William McClelland, president of the University of Pennsylvania, said he was for a training program.

Flowers combined with tiny candles formed the table centerpiece and were in Miss Wise's wedding colors of bronze and green. Covers were placed for 20 guests. Miss Wise, who is the fiancée of Cpl. Patrick L. Nolan of Los Angeles, Calif., was presented a gift by the hostesses.

MRS. WILFRED BRUNNER was hostess to members of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega, national sorority, at a business meeting last night at her home on Homer street. The yearly program of the group was fulfilled by filling a Thanksgiving basket for a family who is less fortunate. Topics were discussed for Christmas parties to entertain the children of the Children's Home. This will be held Dec. 29 at Bowe's ice cream parlor. Saddles Scorned by Flying Cowboys

REDIN' HERD, 1945—Rudolph Dvorak, flying Nebraska rancher, swoops low to inspect a windmill, sees that a faulty pump has cut off water flow, now will land and repair it.

By TIM PARKER
 Associated Press Writer

ATKINSON, Neb. — Rudolph Dvorak, Green Valley rancher, was flitting along in his plane one day on an errand when he saw a neighbor down below.

The neighbor was Joe Dobrovolsky, who was hunting some stray cattle and having trouble finding them in this rugged country.

Dvorak soon saw them from the air, flew over to the discouraged neighbor and shouted down to him where to find them.

That is one of the innumerable examples of how the light airplane is becoming part of the daily life of ranchers in northeast Nebraska.

Track With Wings

Recently Dvorak's brother-in-law, Robert Clifford, needed a spare part for some farm equipment.

He borrowed Dvorak's plane and in 24 minutes was back from town with the needed part. "I can look over my summer range, check the fences, windmills, and look for strays or injured cattle and be back in 15 minutes, when it would take almost a day on horseback," says Dvorak.

Objective: Grass

Earl Coxhill, another flying rancher, used a plane during the summer in scouting for blue grass meadows.

He was purchasing and harvesting the blue grass seed.

Thirty-five miles southwest of Atkinson he spotted a promising meadow, landed at the rancher's house, purchased the crop and ordered in his strippers the next day for the harvest.

It's true enough that the plane simplifies chores, saves time, manpower and even money.

But there's another reason for the ranchers' love for the airplane.

As one said:
 "The sky's big out here and it's fun to fly, especially after riding range horseback or driving a car or truck over trails and roads that are none too good."

Oil fields of the world actually are graveyards of animals and plants which have been subjected to millions of years of heat and pressure beneath the earth's surface.

CHANGE OF TENANCY NOTICES NECESSARY

Information Issued by Marion Area Director.

"With thousands of veterans returning and former war workers moving to new jobs in the Marion rental area, a close check will be made to assure that landlords file notices of each change of tenancy with our office," Edward P. Wagner, OPA area rent director, said today.

"It is particularly important now for landlords to file at the Area Rent Office a notice of a change of tenancy that has been signed by the tenant within five days after each new tenancy occurs.

the housing unit," Mr. Wagner said. "Landlords can obtain copies of the required change of tenancy forms at the Area Rent Office, 100 1/2 East Center street. The process of filing a change of tenancy notice is simple. The landlord fills in a brief form showing the maximum rent and any change in services; has the tenant sign it and then sends it to the rent office. That's all there is to do."

Tenants moving into rental houses or apartments also must be shown the landlord's copy of the registration statement which they must sign as well as the change of tenancy form.

"The tenant should check the registration statement carefully for his own protection because it shows both the maximum legal rent that can be charged for the housing unit, and the services that must be furnished by the landlord."

Hollander Woman Turns To Dictionary To Write Thanks for Red Cross Sweater

Probably the first American style letter ever written, by Mrs. S. Grachten Hoogeloren of Susteren, Holland, was the letter received recently by Mrs. Kenneth Converse of near Forest, formerly of New Bloomington. It was composed by her with only the aid of a book, "Dutch-American" dictionary.

In the letter she expressed appreciation for a wool sweater which she had received some time ago, knitted nearly four years ago by Mrs. Converse, while living in New Bloomington, then known as Agosta. The garment was sent overseas by the LaRue Chapter of Red Cross and had in the back a label on which Mrs. Converse had signed her name and address.

One million dollars, raised during the centennial year in 1962, under the direction of President H. J. Next step will be the raising of $250,000 for the erection of a Student Center (shown above) which will memorialize the 3,226 sons and daughters of the university who fought and died in the war. In the True Spirit of Thanksgiving

REUNITED at last! Heads bowed in prayers of thanksgiving; sons and daughters returned from the wars to the warm love of a mother's aching heart — a father's strong, silent yearning — the eager adoration of younger brothers and sisters. Thanksgiving dinner with all its trimmings! The world at Peace! Is this not reason enough for heads to be bowed in prayer — prayers of thankfulness for having lived in a land that escaped the ravaging hand of a deadly enemy—a land whose brave sons and daughters fought and died that truth, humanity and righteousness might triumph over deceit, cruelty and treachery—and today whose flag flies victoriously over a vanquished enemy. On this Thanksgiving, above all, our first since the end of a tragic and bestial war, there is much for which to be grateful—much for which to thank the Almighty. And those of us who are fortunate enough to have our loved ones home, in our joy, let us not forget those less fortunate, whose loved ones will never return — those who gave their lives that the true spirit of Thanksgiving in America might live on forever.

Mid-State League Maps Out All-American Bird: Good Hunting and Eating 12-Game Basketball Season

Coaches and Officials Meet Here, Discuss Trophy: St. Mary, Richmond, Marysville, Mt. Gilead on Hand.

Officials and coaches of the Mid-State league held a dinner meeting at Hotel Harding last evening. All four teams, Marysville, Richmond, Mt. Gilead and Marion, were represented.

The topic of a trophy for the winner brought the main discussion. It was temporarily agreed that the team to win the title three times would be awarded the trophy. However, plans are not yet complete and there will be more discussion on the matter at a later date. R. T. Mason brought up the matter and is willing to sponsor such a movement.

The trophy discussion centered around the recently ended football season. The trophy winner would not have to win three consecutive seasons, but as soon as any school had built up three season titles it would win a trophy and a new trophy would be put up for the teams to fight over.

Next the schedule of the coming season was checked and the officials of the games were named. The schedule provides for each team to meet the other three teams twice during the regular season. This means that each team will play six league contests. The first league games will get under way on Jan. 4. However, each squad has several warmup games prior to that date.

The complete Mid-State league schedule for the 1945-46 season follows:

Jan. 4—Richmond at Mt. Gilead; Marysville at St. Mary.
Jan. 11—Mt. Gilead at Marysville; St. Mary at Richmond.
Jan. 18—Mt. Gilead at St. Mary; Marysville at Richmond.
Jan. 25—Mt. Gilead at Richmond; St. Mary at Marysville.
Feb. 1—Richmond at St. Mary; Marysville at Mt. Gilead.
Feb. 5—Richmond at Marysville.
Feb. 22—St. Mary at Mt. Gilead.

At the end of 1944, there were approximately 411,000 producing oil wells in the United States, or about twice as many producing at the end of 1918.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Out where the tall scores grow! Jack Dittmer of Elkader, Iowa, High school, who played in the Esquire boys baseball game last summer, put in a few weeks this fall scoring 218 of his team's 405 points to help win the Upper Iowa conference football title. . . . and Webster City, Ia., which produced Bill (191 points) Chauncey last fall, came up with another pretty scorer this year. Merle Harris, 150-pound quarterback, made 17 touchdowns and passed for four more.

Today's Guest Star
Joe Gootler, Paterson, N. J., Evening News. "With everybody offering Red Cochrane's various amounts for the privilege of taking the title from him, it appears that this bout won't need a referee—just an auctioneer."

One-Minute Sports Page
Commenting on the question of Army and Navy in forming the new "Ivy League"—which isn't a league at all—Yale's Oggie Miller explains: "They are a number of other colleges are great people and we like to play them. (But not this year)." The Piedmont league directors may try to persuade President Ralph Daughton to stay another year before retiring to congress rather than try to make a choice among about 20 candidates.

Thumb Fun
Ray Brown, U. of Virginia half-back, finds that having only part of a thumb on his left hand doesn't interfere either with his football or his fun. . . . During one game this fall, the referee saw an opposing athlete playfully taking a nip out of a Virginia lineman's arm. . . . "How long has this been going on?" the ref demanded as he stepped off a penalty. . . . "All the game," said Brown, holding up his abbreviated thumb, "look what they did to me in the first half."

Cleaning the Cuff
Sol Gold, manager of Harold Green, has severed his fight promoting connections with Cleveland's Larry Atkins.

TO FIGHT FOR FISH
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 21—Ohio's attorney general, Hugh S. Jenkins, says he'll fight what he describes as a federal effort to wrest control of sports and commercial fishing in Lake Erie from the state conservation commission.

By The Associated Press
This is the most famous portrait of one of the two most famous birds in America. It was painted a hundred years ago by John James Audubon for his classic bird book and has been reproduced times without number. Audubon spent a lot of time studying painting and writing about the turkey.

For an all-American bird, the turkey has a queer name, and he got into grandpa's barnyard by a queer route—via Europe. But it's now conceded that the gobble's name might have come from his call notes—turk, turk, turk—rather than from the name of the country with which our European forebears so long identified him.

Found in Mexico

The early Spanish explorers came upon the turkey as a domesticated fowl in Mexico and promptly sent him back to Spain as a trophy from the new world. From Spain he went to France and England and thence back to New England with the early settlers.

There the Pilgrims and Puritans found the turkey's first cousins—great flocks of them wild in the woods. If it hadn't been for the turkey, there might not have been a first Thanksgiving, so important was it as a food bird.

A sharp shooter could knock off a dozen turkeys in the course of a morning and count himself lucky because the birds then as now weighed from 16 to 20, sometimes 40 pounds.

Such hunting cut down the turkey flocks in short order but as late as 1717 they sold for as little as shilling fourpence apiece in Northampton, Mass. In congress, at the time the Bald Eagle was voted the symbol of the new-born United States, the turkey championed by Ben Franklin was runner-up.

Gets Smart

Originally a friendly, stupid sort of bird, the turkey has been educated into extreme wariness. One authority calls it the "nobler game bird in the world." Running as fast as a dog when frightened, it flushes rarely. A trained turkey dog, however, will jump barking into the midst of a flock and send them winging away. Then the canny hunter sits down to take advantage of their instinctive return to the place of their fright.

The wild turkey, which used to range abundantly from New England to eastern Mexico, persists still in Pennsylvania, eastern Texas, the Gulf coast and various other parts of the old south. Nearly 3,000 a year are shot in Pennsylvania where restocking has made it comparatively abundant.

BUCKS MAP OFFENSE FOR ANN ARBOR TILT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21—Ohio State gridgers spent nearly double their normal practice time yesterday—an hour and 35 minutes—in a raw wind as coaches sought to develop a winning offense for the Michigan game Saturday at Ann Arbor.

The team concentrated on new plays, mixed with old ones not used in regular games—thus building up an unscouted offensive to pull on the Wolverines. While Coach Carroll Widdoes ran the backs, ends and centers through new plays, Line Coaches Ernie Godfrey and Homer Edington, who scouted Michigan, were giving the linemen the word on Michigan's razzle-dazzle offensive. Godfrey and Edington both stressed the tricky—and unbalanced—T formation and single wing plays which form Wolverine Mentor Fritz Crisler's offensive. Virtually all the key Buckeyes were on hand.

"Dick Fisher, the navy dischargee, was named captain for the Michigan game. Fisher, completing his collegiate career this quarter, will be finishing four years of play with the Buckeyes.

A veteran of the 1939, 1940 and 1941 Ohio squads, Fisher played for the 1942 Iowa Seahawks and was quarterback in the Seahawks' 26-14 victory over Michigan last year.

Tackles Thornton Dixon and Russ Thomas, who missed Monday's drill, were on hand.

"BUMMY" DAVIS DIES AT HANDS OF THUGS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—A man identified by police as Al (Bummy) Davis, 26-year-old former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing titles, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern early today.

The assistant chief inspector's office said Davis was trying to stop four men who robbed the tavern. Davis' real name was Albert Davidoff. The boxer scored one of the ring's outstanding upsets in 1944 with a one-round knockout of then lightweight champion Bob Montgomery in a non-title bout.

The Lions, Cleveland east side representatives, defeated the Saints, champions of the western division, 19 to 0 in an early-season match.

HARDING SCRUB TEAM BLANKS JUNIOR HIGH ALL STARS 33 TO 0

Coss, Huddle, Stroble Score for Sophs in Exhibition Tilt at Stadium.

Harding's second and third stringers came through with a 33-0 win over the ninth grade All Stars from the three junior high schools yesterday afternoon at the Stadium. The Harding scrubs were reversely threatened and managed to score almost every time they got possession of the ball.

Jim Coss counted for Harding's first tally as he drove over from the two-yard line of the All Stars early in the first period. Coss plowed through the middle to add the extra point, making the score 7-0. Harding tallied again in the second quarter when Dick Huddle went over from the All Stars' three. The Harding scrubs attempted for conversion was no good and Harding led at the half 13-0. Huddle found paydirt for Harding again in the third stanza on a 30-yard touchdown jaunt through the All Star line. Coss added the conversion putting Harding out in front 26-0.

That looked like about all the scoring for the afternoon until late in the closing period when Earl Stroble, who started at guard, went in for one play in the backfield, and proceeded to plow his way for a 60-yard touchdown sprint. Jim Rea followed through, with the extra point and the game ended a few minutes later.

Army Star Finally Chosen Nation's Lineman of Week

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Army's great line finally landed a hunk of individual recognition this week as DeWitt "Tex" Coulter, moustache Cadet tackle, was chosen by The Associated Press poll of the nation's sports athletes as "Lineman of the Week." The hulking 222-pounder, who has played a whale of a game in each of Army's crushing victories this season, gained the honor in a wild balloting spree in which three of his teammates also were nominated as outstanding in the "lineman" award. Once again the mid-west writers reported he was the greatest lineman on the field in the Buckeyes' win over Illinois.

Ambling calls all the Ohio State defenses. "You can count lapses on the fingers of one hand and have room to smoke a cigaret," one voter rhapsodized.

ONE-ARMED PETE GRAY, SENT TO HENS, MAY QUIT

Ex-Brown Says Toledo Will Have To Pay.

By The Associated Press
NANTICOKE, Pa., Nov. 21—One-armed Pete Gray, shipped back to the minors by the St. Louis Browns because he couldn't hit major league pitching, may quit organized baseball in 1946 if his new poses "don't pay me enough money."

Gray admitted his release to the Toledo Mudhens of the American Association was "kind of expected, but it still caught me by surprise."

The skinny outfielder, who lost his right arm when he was six, made the major league grade last year when the Browns paid the Memphis Chickies $20,000 for his contract.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21.—Brilliant Bob Waterfield, recovered from recent injuries, with attempt to pitch the Cleveland Rams to the National Football League's western division title tomorrow in a crucial Thanksgiving battle against the Detroit Lions in the Motor City.

The ex-UCLA sensation, near the top of the league in the pay-off pass department, received severe rib bruises while pitching the Rams to victory over the Chicago Cardinals Sunday, but has been reported ready for duty.

Rams Coach Ardy Walsh also reported that Jack Clayton, former Rams star who played but three minutes in the Cardinals' try, had been drilling intensively and should be a capable replacement for Waterfield as the Clevelanders attempt to nab the first western title in history.

Of accidental deaths among American soldiers of the Mediterranean Theater of Operations in one month, 25 per cent were due to motor mishaps, 10 per cent by drowning, 10 per cent by falls and five per cent by mines.

Aerial Photogs Played Key Role in Beating Japs

By International News Service
BUCKLEY FIELD, Colo.—Major Allen and his gallant group of photographers will be special heroes when the report of the Army Air Corps in the last phase of the fight against Japan is written. Some Maj. Allen of San Francisco is now with the 1st Reconnaissance Squadron at Buckley Field. It was Major Allen and his buddies, then with the 1st Reconnaissance Squadron, who sought out the Japanese carrier Admiral Nimitz could lose.

Allen is credited with an important role in the destruction of the Japanese battleship Yamata. Flight C was a component part of the 311th Reconnaissance wing at Buckley Field. It was the first to find the Japanese fleet before the invasion of Okinawa, the B-29's spotted four carriers, four cruisers and two battleships—the Ise and the Yamata—at the Kure naval base. The next day they followed the enemy ships as they steamed out through the Shimonoseki Straits to the China Sea and across to Korea.

Soon afterwards, dive bombers of the 1st fleet proceeded to reduce the enemy works to scrap metal. The same accomplishment was the sinking of the Yamata—commander to our Iowa class in tonnage and fire power.

Previously Major Allen was flying a B-24 with the 24th Combat Reconnaissance Squadron, helping to map the Japanese coast. Each flight involved travel across some 600 miles of occupied China.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLIGENCE

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder. Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves. Instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by irritating, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs and seldom is the patient required to leave any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

If Anyone Wants To Know

THERE is a report occasionally that some Americans do not know what they should be thankful for on Thanksgiving.

While being thankful is a personal, subjective and relative matter, some of the common causes for being thankful are so well known and universal almost anyone could make a fairly representative list. A few of the obvious ones this Thanksgiving are:

That American boys no longer are hunted and being hunted like animals for the preservation of this country from the human animals that soon will be executed for their betrayal of humanity at places like Belsen and various Japanese horror centers.

That with a few exceptions that continue to weigh down our hearts, all the names on the casualty lists of World War II that are going to be added now have been added; and a telegraph messenger at the door is just as likely to bear good news as bad news.

That the United States, despite its reluctance to believe in itself and its persistent search for evidence against itself, has behaved in a momentous trial of its beliefs and principles in a manner that reflected credit on its citizens; Americans were not perfect in the war and are not being perfect in the peace, but on any comparative basis there is nothing to be ashamed of so far.

That within itself, the nation retains most of the precious assets which are described roughly as the "American way of life"—and that these include such relieving absurdities as illogical behavior and a fixed conviction that the right to be illogical, if so desired, is one of the inalienable rights of the privilege of living in the United States.

That the persistent practice of logicalness and illogicalness, in the proper mixture, having made the United States the envy and despair of all other competitors, is not in any danger of being abandoned; all present signs point to a flourishing future for the frustration of the few persons who like to get control of Americans so we will be saved from their own mistakes.

That this is the kind of a country that can comprehend the significance of its Pilgrim fathers and mothers sitting down to a feast of thanksgiving, but has trouble comprehending the significance of political isms; Americans so far have been the despair of the political subdividers eager to get people to fight each other so they, the subdividers, can "save" people from their own violence.

That this is the only major society so far that has solved the problem of producing enough food to keep everybody alive, that only the problem of distribution remains to be cleaned up before every American also can have what he needs to be well nourished, that America has had the grace to share its bounty with starving foreigners without any hope of reward; that all this has been done in the name of the Almighty Creator without whose favor men can accomplish nothing.

These are samples. Dozens more obvious reasons for being thankful on this Thanksgiving exist and also are too well known to need any listing. But with these few as a starter, the gratitude that fills us at Thanksgiving time, 1945, may be sufficient unto a great occasion.

Tragedy of Errors

RELEASE of the long-awaited OPA edict on auto prices is greeted with a chorus of complaint. It is clear that bureaucracy has not pleased the manufacturers and dealers; it may not have pleased anyone at all. And it also is clear that under the circumstances OPA was helpless—one of the victims in a tragedy of errors.

The new auto prices have taken everything into account on a pseudo-scientific basis—costs, improvements, the already inflated price levels of 1942, dealers' profits, manufacturers' profits, wages and so on. But it remains to be seen whether the formula will do the main job—sell automobiles.

This will get attention in the months immediately ahead as the automobile industry goes to the car-hungry public with its new products, provided the labor unions permit the manufacturers to remain in production at the prices OPA has set and provided dealers find no major objection to OPA's regulations. For the first time, a major industry in peacetime is obliged to market its product under economic planning by remote control. The whole thing has been a tragedy of errors so far. The case now goes to the jury—the American public which wants new automobiles at a price it can afford to pay.

"I've got to get another winter out of this heap," said a stranger in the service garage. "See if you can tighten up the ramshackles."

In the schools for re-educating the young German is to be assumed there will be the occasional backward child—the one who can't learn geography.

Bing Crosby and associates have perfected a defense against the atom bomb, but nothing as yet to ward off those lethal gangs about houses that finish last.

New Income Tax Law

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

Relief for Taxpayers with Large Families.

WASHINGTON—The new income tax law will bring relief (in 1946) mainly to men and women who support sizeable families on small or moderate incomes.

All of the estimated 12 million persons who will move out of the taxpaying class next year are married or have dependents. They will escape taxation because the new law gives exemptions from both normal tax and surtax of $500 each for the taxpayer, his spouse and his dependents. Under the old law, these exemptions were allowed only for surtax.

While the exemptions hardly can be described as a "bonus for babies," they will be of considerable help to millions of people at a time of high living costs. For example, a man with wife and five dependent children and an income of $2,500 pays $53 tax this year. Next year he will pay no tax on a $2,500 income.

Real Saving. Besides the exemptions, the tax rate applied to each surtax bracket is reduced by 3 percentage points. Also the combined normal tax and surtax, as computed under the new exemptions and rates, is further reduced by 5 percent of the tax.

A tax cut of $40, or even $20, means a substantial saving to many low income taxpayers. Take a man with a wife and three dependent children and an income of $3,000. This year his tax is $111, or $9.25 a month. In 1946 his tax will be $42, or $3.50 a month.

Fatter Checks. Wage earners will get their first check of reduced taxes in smaller withholdings from paychecks received on and after January 1. For a married man, with two dependent children and a weekly wage of $45, the withholding will be 50 cents, as compared with $1.40 from the same wage during 1945.

Daily Bible Thought
No one can prosper very long who violates eternal laws. Gravity catches up with him: "As long as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper."—2 Chronicles 26:5.
1945. If his wage is $40, there will be no withholding in 1946. In 1945

Promises Venezuelan New Deal

Revolutionary Leader Says He's "Forgotten Man"

ROMULO BETANCOURT

By PHILIP CLARKE
Associated Press Writer

CARACAS—Romulo Betancourt, the 37-year-old former newspaperman who heads the new revolutionary government in Venezuela, has promised the country's "forgotten man" a direct voice in naming his successor.

Heretofore, a restricted electorate has selected Venezuela's congress, and congress in turn has named the president. Betancourt, who became president Oct. 21 through a coup d'etat, said the people would elect his successor, and that literacy would be no bar to voting.

An Old Dream

The bespectacled, studious, former professor and political exile realized a dream of 17 years when he took over the reins of government, ousting President Isaacs Mendina Angarita.

Betancourt and other leaders of the Accion Democratica Party immediately announced plans to lift "this backward nation" to new social and economic heights through sweeping labor legislation, diversification and expansion of agriculture, close cooperation with the United States and other democracies.

The new president was born in Guatire, in the state of Miranda, in 1909 and studied at Caracas Academy under the direction of Romulo Gallegos, who will be the Accion Democratica Party's candidate for president in the elections next year.

In 1929, he was one of the student leaders of a revolution against Juan Vincente Gomez, "The Catfish," who ruled the country with an iron hand from 1907 to 1935. Betancourt was jailed, but eventually escaped and carried on a campaign against Gomez from Curacao, Puerto Rico, Colombia and Costa Rica. In Costa Rica he took time out to help organize the Communist party there, but subsequently dissociated himself from that party and now stands at complete odds with Venezuelan Communists.

Party Leader

He returned to Venezuela in 1936, following the death of Gomez, and led the Accion Democratica Party through its formative stages, while he studied law and other subjects. He spent most of his time during this period, however, in delving into the intricate oil laws under which petroleum-rich Venezuela has leased vast acreages to foreign companies.

In 1937, he again had to go into hiding because of politics, and remained underground within the country for 30 months, when he was finally arrested and exiled to Chile.

He returned to Venezuela in 1941 and took an active part in pushing for Gallegos in his presidential race against Medina. After Medina's election, Betancourt organized the present Accion Democratica Party.

Betancourt is married and has an 11-year-old daughter. He recently visited the United States to establish personal relations with members of the State Department.

Homeless Use Shelters
By The United Press
PARIS—France's bombed-out will live in air raid shelters this winter.

Jean Kerisel, planning director of the reconstruction ministry, said that 450,000 cubic meters of air raid shelter material will come from England, Switzerland and Germany for housing purposes.

"We asked the United States for another 10,000,000 cubic feet," he said "but owing to the demands of the Pacific war, we were only able to get 2,000,000 so far."

Altogether, 1,500,000 French homes were destroyed during the war and rebuilding is hampered by coal and material shortages.

Slow Recovery

By International News Service
PARIS—Following herculean efforts by French contractors and U. S. Transportation Corps, the railroads of France are back to fifty per cent of their pre-war traffic, the National Society of Railroads reveals. Eighty per cent of the destroyed track has been repaired and more than nine thousand damaged locomotives have been salvaged.

Agriculture, including stock raising and horticulture, is the most important single industry of the Canadian people.

"Atomic Socialism" Proposed for United States

Nationalization Threat Disguised as Military Security.

IN the guise of military necessity for control of knowledge about atomic energy in bombs, state socialism is making its strongest bid for acceptance in the United States.

That is the significance of proposed legislation which would give the federal government a single, gigantic monopoly of knowledge about atom-splitting and a monopoly of all materials and means for releasing atomic energy.

This would differ only in degree from state control of such common sources of energy as coal and petroleum, which are also potential sources of explosives and, in all their forms, are of vital military importance.

The proposed national atomic energy commission would have exclusive control over all sources and uses of atomic power. It would create government corporations or license private companies, under conditions imposed by the commission. The commission would operate in complete secrecy. Presumably, all private attempts to master knowledge in the atomic field would be outlawed.

Political Right

The proposed United Nations commission would extend the same principle of control to sources and uses of atomic energy on an international scale. Political control would be placed above scientific research.

This assumption of political right is closely related to the nationalization of key industries now under way in Great Britain and numerous European countries. The current trend toward government acquisition of major industries and sources of power promises to make socialism, or some modified form of socialism, the prevailing pattern in the European economy. A minority in the United States wants the same pattern here.

Nationalization of industries has apparently fewer advocates in this country now than at the close of World War I, but there is danger that socialism may be imposed in the name of military control of atomic energy. The American public and its lawmakers need to understand the implications of what is proposed.

Nationalization abroad is the desperate recourse of economic systems shattered by the war or, as in Great Britain, of a system weakened by war to an extent that enabled socialists to attack it successfully at the polls last July.

No Demands Here

No demands for nationalization of industry comparable to those voiced in Britain and Europe have been made in the United States. Generally speaking, private enterprise is taken for granted here. Yet, Americans are being asked to undertake nationalization in a field of vast potential importance, under military security pressure.

The "revolt" among many of the scientists who worked on the atomic bomb project against personalization of political control of their research signifies that these men who are closest to the newest source of power understand the implications of "atomic socialism."

Here and there a politician has sensed the danger. Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana has warned against "a single gigantic monopoly which would function in complete secrecy." The question is whether the whole country can be made aware in time of the issue to permit full popular discussion of the alternatives it presents.

On the broad question of nationalization, the United States shows no marked tendency to follow the British labor movement in socialism. Only 26 per cent of union members questioned by American Institute of Public Opinion last month were in favor of nationalizing industries. Only 34 per cent favored government ownership of banks. Thirty-eight per cent were in favor of government ownership of coal mines. There has been no overt proposal for socialism such as was embodied in a resolution of United Mine Workers in 1919 for "nationalization and democratic management of all coal mines in the United States." After World War I, the Plumb plan for nationalization of railroads received even wider backing. The Plumb Plan league, with Samuel Gompers as honorary president, claimed the support of 6,000,000 organized workers and farmers. A bill to put the Plumb plan in effect was introduced in the house of representatives in August, 1919, but was not brought to a vote. American railroads, which had been taken over by government during the war, were returned to private control on March 1, 1920. Their performance in World War II was so outstandingly good that no sentiment for nationalization developed.

U. S. Tradition

Instead of moving to place basic industries under government ownership and operation, this country traditionally has preferred public regulation. The numerous public corporations developed under the Roosevelt administration had as their objective the aid or control of private enterprise in the same field. While peacetime government operation of some war plants has been proposed as a means of keeping them in production or of providing competition for monopolistic industries, this would not be nationalization of a whole industry.

As used by socialists, nationalization aims to vest in society the ownership and management of nature-made and man-made producers' goods used in large-scale production.

The Once Over

Oh, see the man! The man is John. He looks frazzled, exasperated and very angry. Why does John look that way? He is having his first contact this winter with the furnace.

Oh, see the furnace! Is it a good furnace? That's what the salesman said it was. What are all those decorations on it? Gadgets. What are they for? That's what John wants to know.

Oh, see the lady. She is John's wife. The lady has a wrench in her hand. What is she doing with the wrench? She is rapping on the radiator for some heat. Will she get some heat? Yes, but not from the furnace.

This is John again. What is John doing now? Still monkeying around the furnace. John has a match in his hand. What is he going to do with it? That's what is puzzling him, too.

Isn't there a set of instructions with the furnace? Of course. Where is it? Maybe we can find out when Junior comes home from school.

Hasn't John ever started a fire in a furnace before? Oh, yes, John has been doing it for years. Is this the same furnace? Yes. Then it hasn't changed in any way from previous years, has it? No. But it always seems so.

Oh, see the spark! Yes, John has finally got a fire started. Will the fire last? That comes under our "Predictions of Things to Come" department. Now that the fire is going, does John look relieved? No. He is still grim and exasperated.

Now he has got to figure out the matter of adjusting the thermostat, setting the clock properly and all that sort of thing.

Uncle Sam has made a fifty million dollar loan to China. This will help the Chinese fight the Chinese.

The Pullman company has decided to accept the offer of the railroads for its business, but the courts may decide in favor of some other bidder. Anyhow, the railroads are now in the position of being in a "lower."

If the key of labor problems can't be found at the Yale Lock plant where can it be found?

In two plants, pickets have been refusing to let the owners and officers enter. It may be a matter of time before the fellow who owns the business may have to give six months notice of a desire to enter and submit references.

Sight-Saving

By Truman Will

The reason some of us do not see things more clearly is because our glasses are dirty. Anyone who wants to know what wearers of glasses are up against can make the rounds and find out for himself.

Take Elmer, the little boy who seems to be peering at the universe through a thick fog and not seeing much of it. Actually, he is trying to penetrate the opaque results of the experience he performed day before yesterday in the laboratory with his chemistry set and is looking through fog at it but a layer of chemicals, specks and will be completely shut off a few more days if his mother does not take him in hand.

Or take Elmer's father, who gives the appearance of living his life in a daze. Elmer's father was shaking the ashes out of the furnace for his glasses are covered with a screen of furnace dust that has not been called to his attention. Mixed with the furnace dust is the dust of everything else, because the poor slob leaves his glasses on the bureau at night and anyone knows how much dust is always collecting on top of furniture.

Or take Elmer's grandma, who is forever peering at things over the tops of her glasses because it is so much easier to see them that way than through a film of greasy gunk that has been settling on her cheeks for the last 10 days while she presided over the kitchen stove, the crop machinery for her grandchild and the family washing machine. The old lady gradually going blind, but will be rescued at the last minute by a good scouring.

As a matter of fact, you could take Elmer's mother if you could see her through a crust of mashed potatoes, fingerprints, cosmetics, food, household dust and rain drop marks incurred when she dashed for the garbage can in a driving rain two nights before last. While Elmer's mother's job to keep abreast of the spectacle washing for the rest of the family is too busy to take care of her own glasses, she adds up to a postwar business opportunity for an ambitious war veteran who will sign a clientele of glasses wearers and call on them once a day with modern equipment to scrape off the sediment of modern existence. This would be a public service of great value and, logically, be included in the routine of those busboys at filling stations who wipe off the windshields of our automobiles but so far have neglected to wipe off the windshields of the drivers. And if you think this is a silly proposition, you are a spectacle wearer, why don't you quit wearing your eyes and wipe off your own glasses now. Dirty, weren't they?

Marble in Famous Buildings

During the blitz and the days, tens of thousands retreated to the countryside, their homes totally destroyed or so damaged that they were unfit to live in. OHIO BOYS ADMIT WAVE OF OFFENSES

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, O., Nov. 21—Two Columbus boys, held here for grand jury action after pleading guilty to looting jewelry stores in three cities in one night, confessed yesterday to a series of additional crimes in their home town, including the firing of a theater to cover up a robbery.

Detectives Lester Bauman and A. A. Gaulke of Columbus said the pair, Charles R. Morrison, 18, and James Summerford, 17, admitted during questioning here to setting fire to the Oak Street theater, Columbus, to destroy fingerprints they might have left behind. The detectives said they also confessed robbing four business places in Columbus.

Morrison and Summerford pleaded guilty yesterday to burglarizing jewelry stores here and in Chillicothe and Circleville and were held to the grand jury.

three-hour strike during the early days of the organization of the U.A.W.

About 500 workers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor's building and maintenance unions joined with the 8,000 CIO workers in the walkout although they have no dispute with the corporation. An A.F.L. spokesman said they were in sympathy with the strike and would not cross picket lines.

The UAW-CIO strike order followed two months of fruitless negotiations on the UAW-CIO's 30 per cent wage increase demands, union rejection of three company counter-proposals and General Motors' delay in replying to a union proposal for arbitration of the dispute.

The corporation withheld comment pending official notification of the union's decision. C. E. Wilson, GM president, flew here last night from Washington, where he had been attending the labor-management conference.

Other Plants Watch

Chrysler Corp., the Ford Motor Co., and other automotive firms facing similar wage demands maintained a close watch on developments.

George Romney, manager of the Automobile Manufacturers association, said Monday a shutdown of General Motors would force all but one other car producer to close within a week. Ford could maintain 50 per cent production, he added.

In addition to five makes of automobiles—Chevrolet, Pontiac,

Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac—General Motors turns out numerous other products such as refrigerators, stoves, radios and diesel engines. It also produces parts for most of the other car manufacturers in its network of factories.

The strike call was announced by R. J. Thomas, UAW-CIO international president and head of the strategy committee. Thomas said the action was recommended unanimously by 200 delegates to the union's national GM council here.

Reply Promised

Shortly before adjournment late yesterday the delegates received a communication from General Motors management saying it would reply to the arbitration proposal "on or before Friday, Nov. 23." In suggesting the naming of a three-man board to arbitrate, the union demanded an answer within 24 hours. The company communication, handed union officials about two hours before the 4 p. m. deadline, gave no indication as to its views on the merits of the proposal.

Two of its provisions, however, were believed inimical to management's position. One was that all books, records and other documents of both parties would be opened to the board. The other was that any wage increases granted by the arbitrators could not be used as a basis for price increases.

Throughout negotiations General Motors has maintained, in effect, that matters of company prices and profits were "none of the union's business."

More Than 12,250 Affected in Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21—More than 12,250 workers are affected by the CIO-United Automobile Workers' union strike order at 11 General Motor Corp. plants in seven Ohio cities.

Montgomery Ward Strike Is Called

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Samuel Woschok, president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees of America, CIO, announced today the union had called a nationwide strike of Montgomery Ward and Company employees, to begin next Monday and last one week.

Woschok said the action was taken because Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, had not repudiated a union proposal sent him via mail special delivery last Friday. The union said it had offered to drop demands for a closed shop and check-off and to submit other proposals to arbitration.

Woschok said that if the head of the mail order company accepts the proposal in time, he is willing to call off the strike. Some 500,000 workers were idle in 150 control cities, most of them in losing wages.

For the second time in two weeks, a work stoppage of AFL bus and street car operators crippled transportation service in Washington, D. C. Hundreds of thousands of residents of the capital and neighboring suburbs were left without their regular means of transportation.

The transit strike in Washington by some 4,000 members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees came after members rejected a proposal by federal arbitrators that demands for increased wages be arbitrated.

The United Department Store Employees union and Montgomery Ward have been in dispute for the past several months after several issues.

In Chicago, there was no immediate indication of a settlement of a strike of 8,700 telephone operators.

At Seattle CIO union officials announced the ending of the near month long strike of Marine Cooks and Stewards association which had tied up the Alaska Steamship Company's Alaska fleet and delayed troop movements.
